

UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING

Don Roth

School of Energy Resources — Deputy Director for Academics
Center for Advanced Energy Studies — Associate Director

Dr. Don Roth is a professor of molecular biology. With a B.S. from the University of New Hampshire and M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from Virginia Tech, Don has taught various courses in Molecular Biology and conducted research to better understand mechanisms regulating cellular responses to virus infection and cancer development. He has published over 120 refereed journal articles, patents and book chapters and has mentored numerous masters and doctoral graduate students.

From 2003-2009, Roth was Dean of the Graduate School at the University of Wyoming (UW). Currently, he is Deputy Director for Academics for the School of Energy Resources, Associate Director for the Center for Advanced Energy Studies (www.caesenergy.org), and Director for the UW Science Posse program- a K-12 energy and natural resources education program.

Education

Ph.D., Virginia Tech

Master of Science, Virginia Tech

Bachelor of Science, University of New Hampshire

INL Joint Appointment Sponsor: Eric Peterson